Kia ora Dr Masters-Awatere:

Thank you for sending the revised version of this paper (Whānau Māori explain how the Harti Hauora Tamariki tool assists better access to health services) and for dealing so thoroughly with the referees' comments. I have now had the opportunity to examine your revised manuscript and I am pleased to accept it for publication in Australian Journal of Primary Health.

Thank you for your excellent contribution to the journal which describes not only an interesting project with good outcomes for community but also excellent research methodology. On behalf of the Editors, I look forward to your continued contributions to Australian Journal of Primary Health.

Sincerely,

Professor David Paul
Associate Editor, Australian Journal of Primary Health
