Lost in all the lies of my disguise left alone in a tidal wave holding on to long gone goodbyes breathe in   breathe out  I'm tethered when all we're told is left to fire along side the way

All of the fairy tales the children learn lost and sold and swept a way and the fears on which to lay my head trapped in black-ness for ev-er and the sole light to ease the bitterness is when the stars come out to play
